Introduction

WeRateDogs is a Twitter account that rates people's dogs with a humorous comment about the dog. The ratings given to the dogs almost always have a denominator of 10, but the numerators are almost always greater than 10 (11/10, 12/10, 13/10, etc.).

In theory, the rates should be between 1 and 10, but WeRateDogs disagrees and believes that almost all dogs deserve a rating of 10 and sometimes even more.
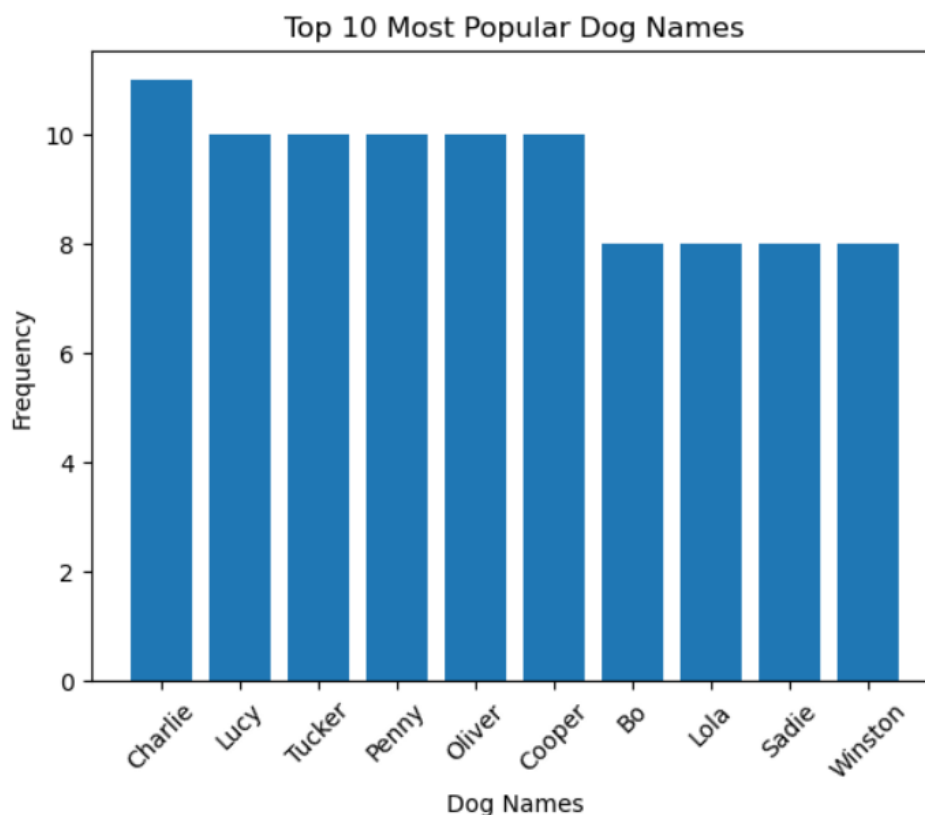

The account has over 6 million followers and has received international media coverage.

One of the most famous quotes from the account is "they're good dogs Brent", which was a humorous response to a person who had an issue with the rating system.

So, Which dog name is the most common in the tweet dataset? What dog breed has the highest favorite count? And the correlation between favorite count and retweet count. These questions and more will be answered in the following insights.
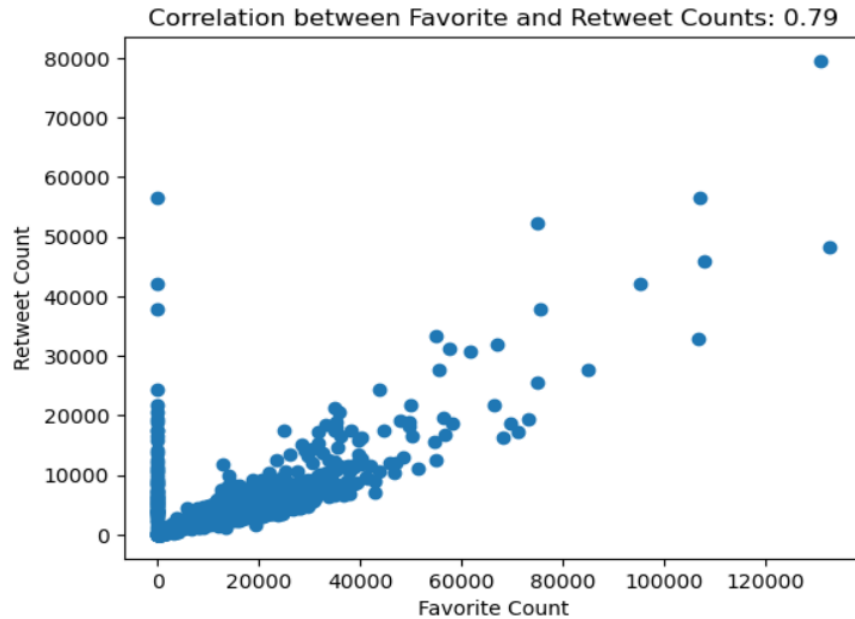

Popular Dog Names:

Like we see the 10 most popular dog names, and Charlie is the most common This name is often given to friendly and playful dogs who love to be around people and other dogs.

Favorite and rewet counts correlation:

It seems there is a strong positive correlation between favorite counts and retweet counts "0.79" this means when one goes up the other also goes up and the opposite.

Relationship between dog stage and favorite counts:

It seems that the dog stage puppo is the most favorite according to the plot followed by doggo, floofer and in last place pupper.
